The 1961 Shield presents a pictorial view of the activities of the North Scott High School. Most of the pages of this book are devoted to the extra curricular program. Important as these are they could not exist without the academic areas, which are basic to a program of education for all. It is the desire of the North Scott Community District that each student graduating from our school achieve to the utmost of his abilities. If we are to be successful in the present space age, it is important that we have the best education that is possible for each of us to obtain.

CLASSES

SENIOR CLASS SPONSORS--Mr. Andersen, Miss Widigen, Mr. Sible, Mr. Bakehouse, & Mr. Clemmensen.

Our high school days are over now, but we will never forget the three years we have spent at North Scott High School. For some, high school ended too soon, but others could not wait.

Class officers and Student Council members were chosen from the many capable seniors. The class officers were: President, Lorna Tank; Vice-President, Mary Wiese; Secretary, Gary Ewoldt; and Treasurer, Jim Schneckloth. The Student Council was led by: Dick Helble, President; Sandy Ewoldt, Vice-President; and Eleanor Schmalz, Secretary. Other senior members of student council were Linda Dreter and Beverly Amhof.

Our advisors whose help was needed and appreciated were: Mr. Anderson, Mr. Clemmensen, Mr. Sehmann and Miss Widigen.

Many class members have taken part in the extra-curricular activities including plays, sports, speech contests, worked on the Lance, the Shield, and school clubs.

Among the memorable events of the year were homecoming, the Bachelor Capture, the Prom, the senior picnic, the games and graduation.

The freshman class of North Scott had a very new and exciting year. We were represented in many school clubs and activities, sports activities, pep club, chorus, band, F.H.A., F.F.A., Style Show, Talent Show and many others. New Knowledge and responsibility were acquired from these activities.

Five freshman girls took part in cheerleading. Student Council members were Bill Carlin, Carole Crane, Carolyn Gilbert, Randy Siemson, and Dan Sierk. Several freshman boys did an outstanding job in sports.

We are grateful for the help and understanding of our class advisors.

ACTIVITIES

Linda Hobart was crowned Queen of the 1961 Homecoming Festivities on October 7. She was attended by Sandra Ewoldt, Beverly Steward, Mary Wiese, and Eleanor Schmalz.

"60 HOME

An unusual guest among the Homecoming fans was "William."

Queen Linda arriving at the football game.

1960 North Scott Homecoming Activities commenced on October 6 with a huge bonfire and a snake dance through Eldridge. After much suspense and wondering, Linda Hobart was crowned Homecoming Queen at a school pep assembly.

At the big game, the victorious Lancers trounced Prairie High School of Cedar Rapids with a score of 20-6. Following in the high school gym, the celebration continued with everyone dancing to the music of Hal Whitmer.

Jim Schneckloth and Gary Spray, co-captains for the Homecoming game, are knighted by Queen Linda Hobart.

COMING

The queen and attendants are introduced at the game by Master of Ceremonies, Mike Keehner.

"TALENTED

TUTORS"

About sixty Junior-Senior High and Elementary North Scott School teachers presented a talent show November 4 and 5 in the high school gymnasium. Dancing, comical, and musical talent was included in the program.

The program was organized to set up a college scholarship fund to present to a North Scott graduate. Qualifications are to be based on desire, need, and ability. The scholarship winner must plan to enter the teaching profession.

Elementary teachers and teacher, Miss Lorraine Nagle portray a school day.

"Well, Mr. Hahn, do we get that salary raise?"

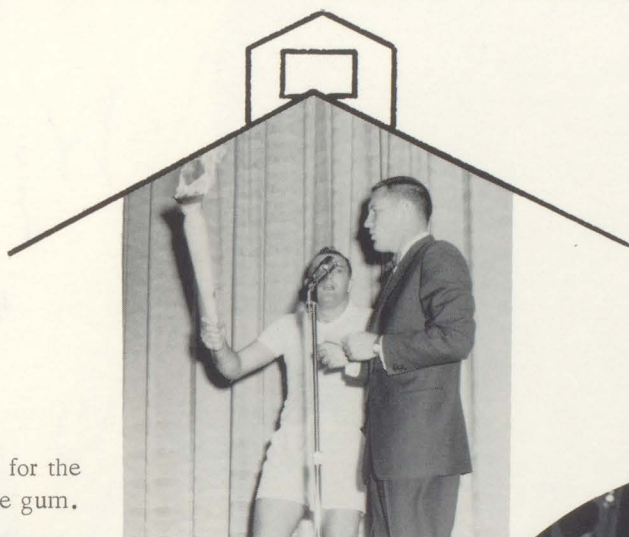

The voices of Milton Schatz, Eric Erickson, Robert Oberg, and Wilbur Bakehouse blended in a quartet.

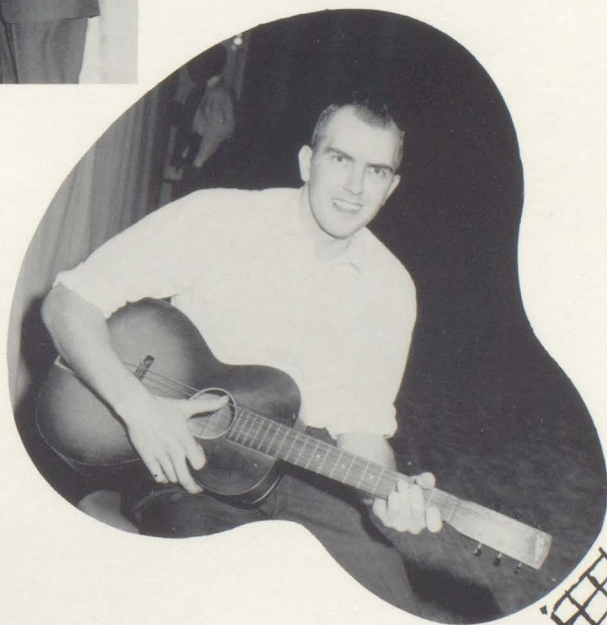

Eric Erickson, Keith Schmidt, Jean Rousch, Miss Carol Czervionke, Miss Roxanna Shope, and Wilbur Bakehouse, all teachers, composed the German Band in the Talented Tutor Show.

Wayne Higby, dunce for the evening, pops his bubble gum.

Wm. Erps, an "Olympic Star", bursts onto the stage to ask Larry Lake how to get to Rome for the relay.

An original ballad was played and sung by Milton Schatz.

"Terry, my child! "

"What'd you say this place was? A Home for Girls?"

"Everybody look at Miss Maitland! And remember this will be in the papers tomorrow."

"There's always somebody coming into this place. It's like Grand Central Station."

"Stage Door," composed of a cast of 19 female parts and 11 male parts, concerns a group of young girls who have come to New York to study acting and find jobs. The scene is Mrs. Orcutt's boarding-house, where the hopes and ambitions of sixteen young women are revealed in scenes of entertaining comedy. The central plot has to do with Terry Randall, portrayed by Bonnie Keppy, who fights against discouragement to a position in the theater. Terry with the help of David Kingsley, played by Dan Koch, sticks to her guns.

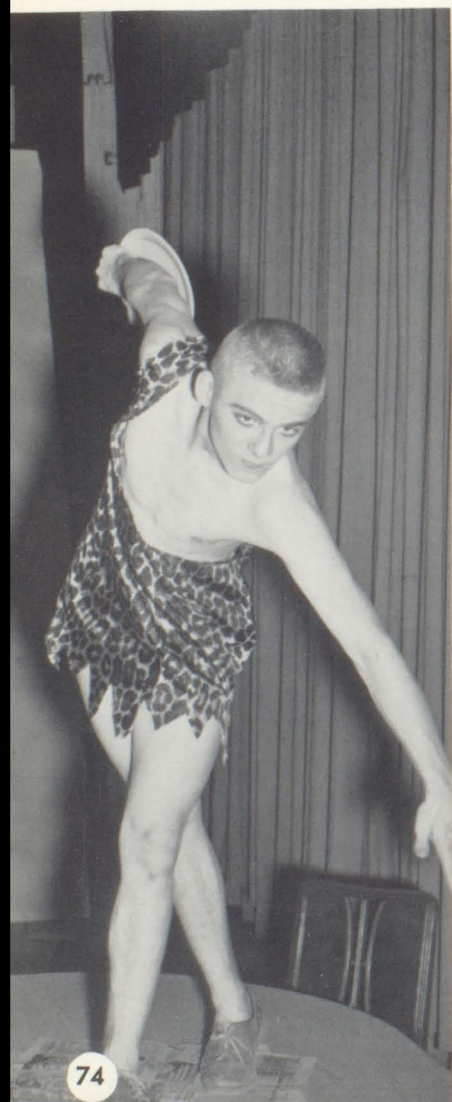

"But Mr. Gretzl, nobody could give a reading under these conditions. It isn't fair."
